As this is an “open Call” exhibition, it is not possible to include CV’s of participants, as we envisage over 100 individual artists, and the timeline given cannot be achieved without knowing if the Australian National Brooch Show 2015 exhibition will receive support to be held in the City of Yarra.

The Contemporary Art society of Victoria has received recognition for its role in supporting the visual arts in Yarra, by state and Federal governments, and its innovative exhibitions such as “The Australian National Brooch Show” have received support by the media, for its contribution to the arts landscape of Melbourne. Previously the exhibition was described in The Age as; “A must see” exhibition, and “If you are going to do one thing this weekend, go see The Australian National Brooch Show”
